Senior Director, Advancement

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Stratford Festival is seeking a highly strategic, experienced fundraiser to be our next Senior Director, Advancement. A collaborative and dynamic leader of people and projects, the Senior Director will have the opportunity to make a significant impact on the largest theatre company in North America and arguably one of the most important arts organizations in the English-speaking world.

Reporting to the Executive Director and working closely with the Artistic Director, the new Senior Director will manage a committed staff team of 11 and work in partnership with the Advancement Committee Chair, along with a group of dedicated senior volunteers to manage donor relations and systematically increase support for the Festival.

Leveraging a passion for the performing arts along with proven fundraising acumen, the Senior Director will work collaboratively and diligently to build the donor and prospect pipeline and key revenue streams including major gifts, special appeals, membership, special events and our endowment. Balancing a strategic lens with tactical agility, the Senior Director will be able to quickly assess resources and opportunities to build and implement high-return campaigns, fundraising programs, systems, and activities in a timely manner.

A skilled and highly motivated relationship builder, the Senior Director will use their networking and communication experience to authentically convey the joy and value of theatre to increase engagement and greater support for the Festival. A natural facilitator and people leader, the Senior Director will be able to quickly build trust with colleagues and volunteers while developing productive relationships with donors and prospects in Canada and the U.S.

This is an exciting time to join the Stratford Festival as chart a path toward greater revenue diversification and growth. As part of this journey, our new Senior Director will need to embed themselves in our picturesque, artistic community, living within a reasonable commute to ensure Advancement goals can be met during the high season and throughout the year. In addition to the competitive salary and benefits package, relocation support is available to assist the new Senior Director should they require relocation.

ABOUT THE STRATFORD FESTIVAL

The Stratford Festival is one of the world's foremost repertory theatre companies. It operates year-round, presenting a season of about a dozen plays each year between April and November, a rich stream of digital content and hundreds of Forum events, designed to deepen understanding of the plays. For every person a theatregoer sees on stage, there are seven people working behind the scenes supporting our incredible experience of theatre.

Embracing an over 70-year heritage of tradition and innovation, the Stratford Festival seeks to bring theatre alive for increasingly diverse audiences, pursue new artistic avenues, and expand the scope and reach of work beyond the stage itself. As part of this effort, the theatre also presents The Meighen Forum, a season-long program of events and activities that complement the playbill; conducts an artistic R&D program entitled the Laboratory; and films plays from its stages for distribution through Stratfest@Home and other outlets reaching audiences around the world.. We have also moved forward with a culture shift to support anti-racism and anti-oppression and ensure a respectful, equitable and inclusive environment in which all staff, artists and audience members can feel a true sense of belonging.

With an annual budget of $80 million, the Festival earns 95% of its revenue through ticket sales, fundraising, and ancillary activities, making it one of the most self-sufficient cultural organizations on the continent.

A registered charity in both Canada and the United States, the Festival has built an $120-million endowment fund to support operating activities, including training, education, outreach, new play development, and capital projects.

The $100-million Spirit of the Tent campaign (concluded pre-pandemic) supported the construction and operation of the new Tom Patterson Theatre. This 600-seat state-of-the-art facility both affirms and enhances the Festival's position as a dynamic world leader in the development and production of live theatre.

By attracting the finest talent from Canada and around the world and by providing the conditions and training that enable artists to achieve their most courageous work, the Festival immerses audiences in a theatregoing experience that is innovative, entertaining, and unsurpassed anywhere in the world, one that is deeply relevant to, and reflective of, our lives and communities.

What makes the Stratford Festival the largest and most popular repertory theatre in North America?

All of the above plus the simple, immediate, and very human connection between actor and audience!

LEADERSHIP BIOGRAPHIES

Anita Gaffney, Executive Director

Anita Gaffney was appointed Executive Director of the Stratford Festival in 2012. Since that time, she has worked to steer the Festival towards financial stability while supporting the artists, staff, volunteers, partners and audiences who shape the Festival's success. Ms. Gaffney joined the Festival in 1991 as a Publicity Assistant, and over the past 33 years has held a variety of positions, including Director of Marketing during the theatre's years of peak attendance.

In addition to guiding efforts to plan and fulfill the season offerings, Ms. Gaffney has worked alongside Artistic Director, Antoni Cimolino in the development of the Festival's strategic direction as well as the introduction of new initiatives, including The Meighen Forum, The Laboratory, the HD films series, the Stratford Direct bus service and Stratfest@Home, the Festival's subscription-based streaming platform.

In 2018, Ms. Gaffney and Cimolino launched a $100-million campaign to build a new Tom Patterson Theatre. The campaign exceeded its goal and the new theatre opened in May 2022, winning several architectural awards, including the Governor General's Medal in Architecture, the global MasterPrize Award, the UK Civic Trust Award and the Design Excellence Award from the Ontario Association of Architects, as well as the OAA's People's Choice Award.

Since 2020, the public health crisis brought extraordinary challenges and opportunities for the Festival, addressing both its survival and its reinvention. In the spring of 2020, the Festival was forced to cancel its in-person season and build its digital capacity. In 2021 the Festival mounted a season of 11 plays and cabarets outdoors under canopies and at the Studio Theatre; and in 2022 the Festival was able to return to its four indoor venues with 10 productions.

An active member of the Stratford community, Ms Gaffney is the Past Chair of the City of Stratford's economic development agency and of the Stratford Public Library. In 2011, she served as the Campaign Chair of the United Way Perth-Huron.

Ms Gaffney received an honorary doctorate from Western University in 2019. She participated in the Governor General's Leadership Conference in 2008 and received a Business Excellence Award for Personal Achievement from the Stratford and District Chamber of Commerce in 2006.

Antoni Cimolino, Artistic Director

Antoni Cimolino is the Artistic Director of the Stratford Festival, a post he was named to in 2012, having served as General Director, Executive Director and General Manager, in addition to other roles.

Antoni began at the Stratford Festival in 1988, as an actor, taking on his first directing projects in the mid-1990s. Highlights of his career include playing Romeo to Megan Follows's Juliet; directing Richard Monette in Filumena, William Hutt in Twelfth Night, Brian Bedford in Love's Labour's Lost and Martha Henry in The Tempest; the creation of the multimillion-dollar Endowment Foundation; the renovation of the Avon Theatre and the creation of the Studio Theatre; and the building of the glorious new Tom Patterson Theatre.

In 2013, his first season as Artistic Director, Cimolino introduced The Meighen Forum, a season-long series of more than 150 events illuminating the themes of the playbill and illustrating their relevance in today's world. That same season he directed The Merchant of Venice, with Tom McCamus and Scott Wentworth, and Mary Stuart, with Seana McKenna and Lucy Peacock, a production that was extended an unprecedented four times.

His recent productions include Eduardo de Filippo's Grand Magic with Geraint Wyn Davies in 2023, as well as Richard III and The Miser with Colm Feore in 2022; the English-language première of Birds of a Kind with Jakob Ehman, Deb Filler, Alon Nashman, Harry Nelken, Sarah Orenstein, Baraka Rahmani and Hannah Miller; The Merry Wives of Windsor with Geraint Wyn Davies, Sophia Walker and Brigit Wilson; Napoli Milionaria! with Tom McCamus and Brigit Wilson; The School for Scandal with Shannon Taylor, Geraint Wyn Davies and Joseph Ziegler; Macbeth with Ian Lake and Krystin Pellerin; The Hypochondriac with Stephen Ouimette and Brigit Wilson; Hamlet and The Alchemist with Jonathan Goad; King Lear with Colm Feore (one of the top-selling Shakespeare productions in the Festival's history); and The Beaux' Stratagem with Colm Feore and Mike Shara.

In 2014, Cimolino and Executive Director Anita Gaffney launched Stratford Festival On Film, an ambitious project to capture all of Shakespeare's plays. The productions from this ongoing initiative, along with films of some non-Shakespeare productions and original digital content are part of a massive catalogue of arts programming available on the Festival's subscription streaming platform, Stratfest@Home.

In 2018, Cimolino and Gaffney launched a $100-million campaign to build a new Tom Patterson Theatre. The campaign exceeded its goal and the new theatre opened in May 2022, winning a number of architectural awards, including the Governor General's Medal in Architecture, the global MasterPrize Award, the UK Civic Trust Award and the Design Excellence Award from the Ontario Association of Architects, as well as the OAA's People's Choice Award.

Cimolino, now in his 37th season at the Festival, is the director of the 2024 production of London Assurance at the Festival Theatre.
